School Board Discusses Playgrounds, Skating

Warren Borough School Board members gathered for their March session Monday evening with a routine agenda that included appointment of playground supervisors for the coming summer season.

Selected by the board to guide the playground program were David Olson, John Stachowiak, Eugene Williams, Joe Massa, Paul Myers, Dan Stimmel, Phyllis Putnam, Fred Schultz, Anita Dickerson, Marilyn Vesling, Diane Lord, Carolyn Eddy and Nancy Clapp. Part time workers listed were Richard Kauffman, Jim Johnson, Penny Mader, Gloria Peterson and Joann Marshall.

The board approved a report on the ice skating program at Beatty field this winter, for which the board provided supervisor. Total cost ran $296 with $41.06 the share of each the school board and borough council. The state covers the difference.

A check in the amount of $422.91 was received from the state as reimbursement for the milk program. This special program for last month listed a cost of $884 for the board, with the monthly summary showing a $44 loss.

Payments approved included $988, substitute teachers; $76, special services; $70, recreation; $152.25, janitors' overtime; $7,680.34, orders written during the month. On recommendation of the finance committee $51,051.61 in bills was approved, the major portion of this going to the jointure.

In other action expenditures of $472.50 for 875 boxes of straws and $237.60 for 36 cases of napkins were granted. The leaders also approved spending up to $600 for library books in the elementary schools next term.

Two additional teachers will be hired to teach the fourth and sixth grades at South Street school in 1957-58, as the Jefferson and Lacy buildings can no longer handle these extra classes. This year the school has taught only the first three grades. Next term only the fifth grade will be instructed.

Two faculty members on leave, Miss Joan Kondak and Mrs. Clemantine Carlson, will return to the local school system next year; Barbara Lester was made a full time secretary at Jefferson school and will also help other principals; and the resignation of Mrs. Nancy Carr as dental hygienist was accepted as of June.

DESTROYED BY FIRE. This is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emery Orcutt, Warren-Kinzua rd., that was completely destroyed by fire last Saturday evening. The couple, along with their two daughters, Sandra and Cheryl, were away at the time and lost all their possessions.

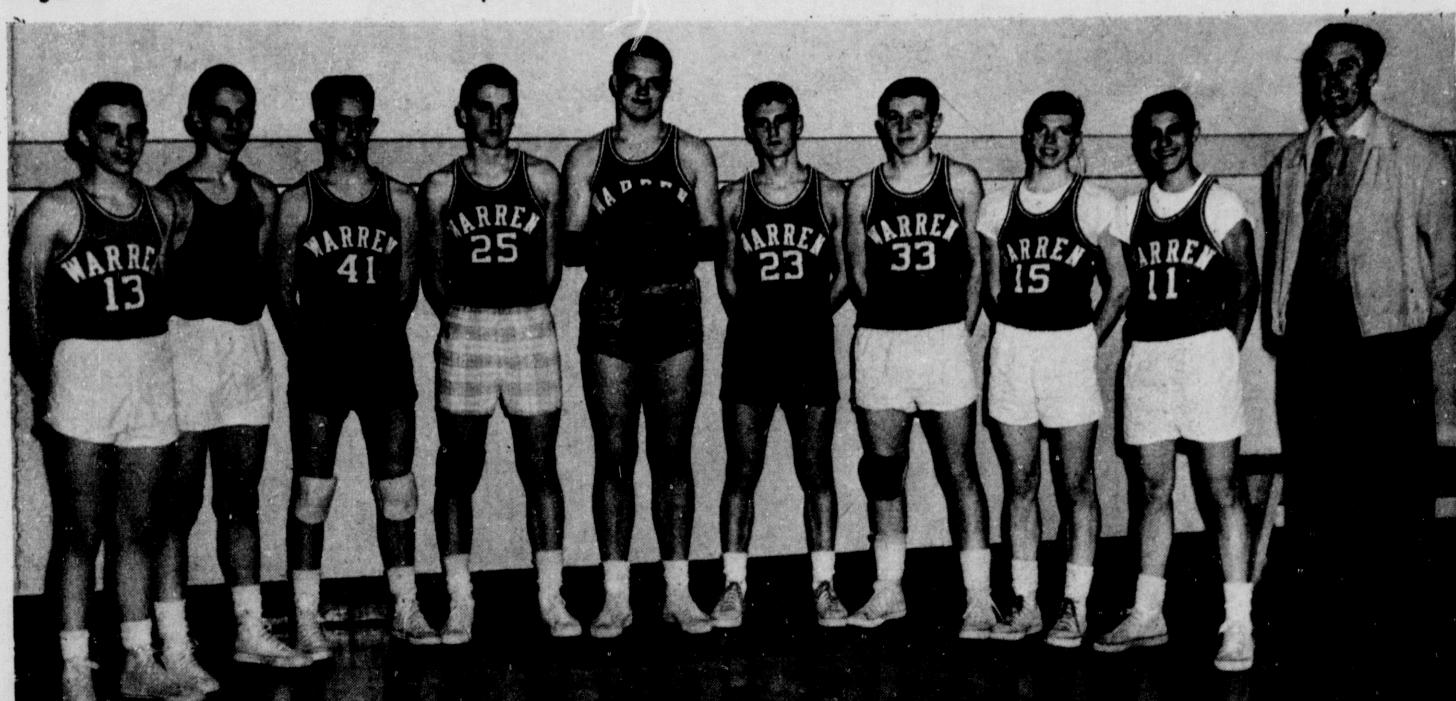

Bad electrical wire was believed to have caused the blaze that broke out at 8:30 p.m.

"CHARLEY'S AUNT", a three-act farce by Brandon Thomas, will be produced by Warren Players on the Woman's Club stage March 14 and 15.

POST SEASON WINNERS. This young group of baby Dragons, who will likely grow into next year's varsity, roared to an impressive 92-27 over the Tidioute high Bulldogs in a post-season match at the "Y" Monday night. The game was staged as a prelim for the current playoffs in the Y-City loop.

The team was made up of (l. to r.) Joey Massa, Mark Peterson, Bill Brumagim, Doug Wilson, Bill Mer-vine, Ken Hottman, Don McKelvy, Jack Karkosky, and Nick Creola. Ed Lindberg, who performed with the House of David earlier this season before being injured, coached the floormen.

State Should Take Over Fourth Avenue

In response to inquiries by Warren borough the district engineer of the Pennsylvania State Highway Department has revealed that his office lacks the authority to take over sections of borough streets, but says the addition of such a section can be done by legislature. It thus seems to be up to Assemblyman Allen E. Gibson and Senator L. E. Chapman.

The district engineer suggests that the route by way of Fourth and Morrison would not be recommended by his department because of the physical features of the Pennsylvania ave. and Morrison st. and the Fourth ave. and Morrison st. intersections. He also does not like the railroad crossings on Fourth.

But he suggests that a route by way of Fourth and Laurel would be given favorable consideration as an auxiliary route. If the state would approve such a route, Warren would have $19,000 to spend either on the rest of Fourth or on such streets as Glade ave.

There is one little angle we must not miss, however. We do not want just an approved alternate. That would do no more than allow us to put up signs. We still would have the maintenance costs. If we do anything at all it should be through our elected representatives who could have this stretch added to the state highway system.

Our point is that it already is being used by truck drivers and motorists who are aware of the short-cut and we are paying the enormous cost of maintaining what amounts to a main artery of the state highway system. This should be assumed by the state and our Harrisburg representatives should be petitioned by us to see that the state assumes its responsibility.

87TH BIRTHDAY. Mary Sullivan celebrated her 87th birthday at the home of James Holland on Brown Hill where she resides. She was born in Warren and has spent her entire lifetime in Warren County. Her nearest relatives are nieces and nephews.

FOUR SCORE YEARS were celebrated by George W. Wood on Sunday when open house was arranged at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Helene McClure. Relatives and friends gathered to wish the honored one "many happy returns". Mr. Wood has four children, Paul Wood, Mrs. Verna Young, Joseph Wood, and Mrs. Helene McClure; 11 grandchildren and 25 great-grandchildren. He was born in Eldred, McKean Co., Pa., and now resides in Russell. He is employed at Interelectric Corp.

ASIDES

A THIRD FILE

Income tax filers have received over $14 million back already just in the Pittsburgh area, suggesting that it pays to send your form in early. About 1,600,000 will file in this area, and close to 600,000 have done so. Refunds apparently are averaging about $70 per return.

If clergymen want their earnings to count toward social security, they should file waivers not later than April 15 this year. Each minister must pay his own tax, which is three percent of his salary up to $4,200. His church does not deduct it.

And don't forget that you can claim your children as dependents, even if they are working and make over $600. There are some "ifs", however. They must be under 19 and must qualify as students. You must provide over half their support.

The child must file a return if he earns over $600, even if he still is a dependent. And he should file no matter what he earns so that he will receive his refund.

Poorly informed and ill advised is Senator Edward Martin, of Pennsylvania, who is quoted in the Pittsburgh Post Gazette as being opposed to the Kinzua dam. He says it will cover valuable farm land. Senator, why don't you come up and see it some time?

WHERE DID THEY GO?

The apples that fill the grocery bins these days seem so lacking in flavor compared with the ones we once enjoyed as we tramped through the neighboring orchards. Is this the result of hybrid improvements or doesn't anyone bother with greenings, russets, and 20-ounce apples these days. There were some others which escape us at the moment. But how we would love to sink our teeth into a hard, juicy, red crabapple again.

PREFERRED PEDIGREE

Some people would be happy to have just a good pedigree, but down at Rosecliff farms they have a bull which has been rated a preferred pedigree sire, the highest attainable honor in the Selective Registration program of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America. And he hasn't done a thing to earn it. It is issued on the basis of the outstanding performance of his ancestors in offical breed improvement programs.

In contrast to humans, this animal had to have both sides of his family on the Mayflower gangplank.

RT. 6 REPAIRS DEFERRED

Advocates of Route 6 as the new super highway for Pennsylvania may not even see a dollar spent on the road for improvements this year. Secretary of Highways Joseph J. Lawler, who is not in favor of Route 6 and prefers what is called the Keystone Shortway across the center of the state, has deferred the expenditure of $29 million for Route 6 improvements until the status of the Shortway project is decided.

His argument is that Route 6 as a super would mean building a new highway in most places, resulting in two highways through this area. He says the Shortway would cost twelve million dollars less than Route 6, because it is shorter and less densely populated.

Mr. Lawler has said that since a report was made on the engineering survey, revealing the many facts adverse to using Route 6, several hundred public officials, businessmen, and industries along that route have petitioned his department to proceed with the improvement program as a part of the Federal Primary System rather than as an Interstate highway.

yea Memorial fund goal has been increased to $1,000 to meet the cost of adequate chimes for the church. The original figure was $400, but it has been decided that this will not be sufficient. Early this week the receipts amounted to $146.

Mrs. Mildred Wiltsie, who is chairman of the memorial project, also reports that her search for babies brought into this world by Dr. VerMilyea has produced twenty-four names that had not been known, twelve boys and twelve girls.

The committee is interested in learning who the Doctor's first baby was. This will be difficult because he had delivered between six or eight hundred before it became necessary to register births.

There is nothing very original about the stories that are peddled about the Kinzua dam. The same kind of distortions may be found in any area where public dams are proposed. It has become a matter of policy for powerful interests in this nation to oppose anything of this nature that is to be built by the government. If they can find friends in the area who will help give credence to such tales the opposition is strengthened. Such has been the case in Warren since the Kinzua dam became a gleam in Uncle Sam's eye.

But while this attack has been enjoying a great success, the counter attack has been non-existent. As a writer, broadcaster, and editor we went many years without hearing anything but the opposition's side. Not once did we receive a factual release from Pittsburgh.

While those who opposed the dam actually had a full-time publicity man preparing releases to discredit the dam and making speeches before many groups in an effort to stop it, the engineers sat on their hands and did nothing.

This seems a bit costly to us. Inasmuch as we have spent some fairly fancy sums to prepare the groundwork for this dam, it seems that the public's money is being wasted if those who do the job do not support their study and work with statements to the press and radio. The public certainly is entitled to the facts, facts for which it is paying good tax money.

It became necessary for this reporter to buy the full Ohio River Report, which must have cost the public a few bucks to prepare. He had to study it thoroughly as his first step toward knowing what the Kinzua dam was all about. This could have been condensed into a few sheets by alert engineers and the public could have seen the value of the dam in the pages of all papers in this area and could have heard it on all the radios.

From there we proceeded to make further studies. We had to write private engineers and colleges for hydro-engineering facts that could be applied to the Kinzua situation. As a rank layman we were forced to put all these facts together and come up with the opinion that someone was shooting the wind, and that the dam was not the big, bad bugaboo it was being made.

And just one reporter, digging away in this manner, let enough light in so that others took interest. The ball grew in size after a few hard turns, and a couple of floods almost convinced people.

Observations

By Bob Walsh

KINZUA DAM REQUIRES TECHNICAL SUPPORT

It takes more than a knowledge of algebra, trigonometry, physics, and chemistry to build a dam. It also required an awareness of public opinion and some training in helping to mold it. In this respect the army engineers are doing a very poor job on the Kinzua dam. They always have.

The engineers in Pittsburgh don't seem to know where their friends are. Though they might not be expected to have the skill to write interesting news articles and to carry on a clever publicity campaign, they at least should be sufficiently familiar with the news media of their area to keep those media provided with the true facts about whatever project on which they may be working.

It points up in sharp relief that too many engineering schools are limited to technical training and very little of anything else. It makes the three-two plan sound much more adequate when it comes to turning out a well balanced citizen. In the three-two plan, a student attends a liberal arts school for three years, receives a well-rounded education, including much basic technical knowledge, and then specializes in two years of concentrated engineering study.

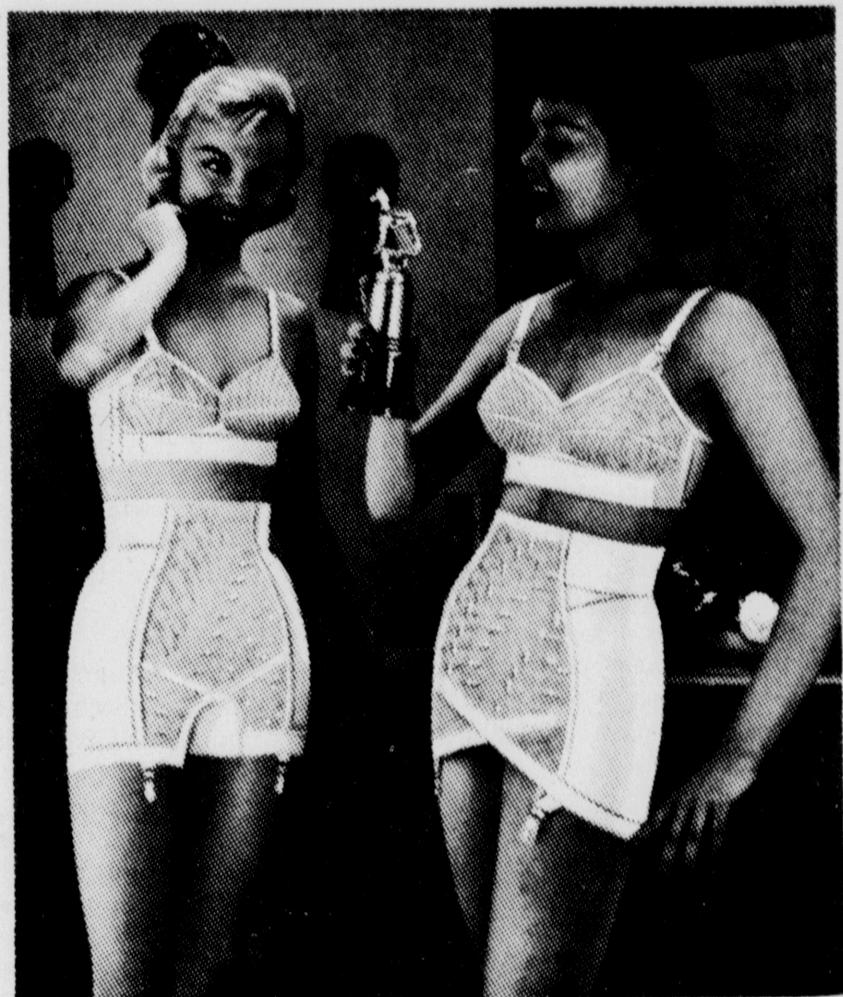

The flood of propaganda that has been released in opposition to the Kinzua dam since it first was approved by Washington in the late 1930's has resulted in many incorrect conceptions on the part of those who reside in this area. Strangely, many people will swallow anything they see in print, no matter how irresponsible the publisher may be, or they will believe anything a curb-stone acquaintance may pass onto them.

There is nothing very original about the stories that are peddled about the Kinzua dam. The same kind of distortions may be found in any area where public dams are proposed. TE LA DI O

TV TIDBITS

Twenty-seven years ago, Penn State's engineering extension offered a home study course in television! Called "Elements of Television", the course was non-technical but intended to give general knowledge of the principles of transmission of pictures, together with details and instructions for building an amateur receiving set. What the student might do with a set after it was built was a little vague as this was four years before any American had been credited with an invention in television (according to the World Almanac) and 11 years before the Federal Communications Commission first authorized the new medium.

Before Pearl Harbor, there were only five months of telecasting to about 10,000 sets, the audience squinting at snowy blobs on infrared tubes about two inches in diameter.

Today, a total of 56,000,000 tv sets around the world are picking up programs from 845 stations, according to statistics gathered for the latest edition of Television Fact-book. Still basically an American institution, television is now found in all parts of the globe. The U.S. has 496 stations and 42,000,000 receivers.

 RATING FALLACY

Trendex, Inc., which rates the popularity of network programs, makes its comparative analysis during the first seven days of the month, completely ignoring the remaining three weeks. So if a program isn't scheduled during the first week it has no chance of making the "top ten" list. "Twenty-One", the quiz show pitting Charles

Van Doren against Mrs. Vivienne Nearing, is a good example. One of the top shows on the air currently, it doesn't qualify because in February its Monday night spot was supplanted by "Mayerling" and this week by "Romeo and Juliet".

American Research Bureau compiles its "top ten" on a one-week-a-month basis. The Nielsen rating service supposedly makes a continuous check but doesn't make its findings available until about three weeks after the event. In the meantime, anything can happen to a program's popularity, and often does.

The industry needs to work out a new system. The present one cannot be taken seriously when it leaves out 75% of the shows on the air. ***

RADIO DIVES LOWER

Radio's licking by television will result in even lower rates for advertisers next year. CBS radio is reducing its night time prices 33 per cent. To partially offset this it will raise the day time prices 5 per cent. TV previously had forced radio into the position of charging the same for its precious evening hours as it did for day programs. Now the bottom is dropping out of the night spots.

Day time spots are keeping radio alive. Those who listen to it in the evening are doing so because they don't mind listening to music while they read. But they do not stop their reading to listen to the commercials.

The television brain that will really give radio a rough time will be the one which cooks up programs that can be enjoyed by those who can only listen as well as by those who have time to watch. That will nail the busy housewife and perhaps even will enduce engineers to make fm practical for cars.

BOOTS AND SADDLES

Head for the old corral, pardners, we're gonna be a-ridin' hard and shootin' fast! An avalanche of sagebrush sagas has hit TV. Plans for twenty-one Western-type series have been announced by eight producers in the past three months.

Eleven horse operas currently offered by the networks are "Roy Rogers" and "Cowboy Theater", NBC; "Broken Arrow", "Wyatt Earp", "Rin Tin Tin" and "The Lone Ranger", ABC; "Zane Grey Theater", "Gunsmoke", "Wild Bill Hickok", "Tales of the Texas Rangers" and "Lone Ranger", CBS. Plus umpteen old Western films being shown on local stations.

NBC is coming up with "Union Pacific" and "Pony Express", with "Wells Fargo" due to debut on March 18. ABC may get four Warner Bros. projects, "Oklahoma Kid", "Trouble Smith", "The Texan" and "The Gambler". CBS also has on tap "Without Incident", "Have Gun, Will Travel", "Cavalry Patrol" and "Lone Woman". Screen Gems has a pair, "Man From Texas" and "Daniel Boone". Desilu Productions has "The Last Marshall"; Revue Productions, "The Sixshooter"; TCF-TV has "Man Without A Gun"; Walt Disney is readying "Zorro" for ABC. Screen Gems is also working on a filmed musical, "Western Ranch Party", and CBS is playing with "Guestward Ho".

This era will be known to posterity as the second opening of the West! ***

OIL AND WATER

Vaudeville and grand opera just don't mix as Ed Sullivan and the Met have learned to their mutual unhappiness. They have agreed to terminate their contract. The Sullivan rating nosedives every time an opera singer or conductor is scheduled to appear, much to Ed's chagrin and Steve Allen's advantage. Met manager, Rudolf Bing, is displeased with Sullivan's handling of time and presentation. The first performance of Met stars, last November, consumed eighteen minutes of the Sullivan show. The fourth and final appearance on March 10 is being limited to four minutes.

Ed doesn't mind being considered a low-brow by Mr. Bing as long as he holds his rating against Steve Allen.

FUTURE FLICKERS

POLLY BERGEN will star in CBS-TV's "Helen Morgan Story" on May 16. Warner Bros. Pictures tried to have the play postponed until after the movie version of the late singer's life was completed. Ann Blyth stars in the cinema presentation.

FAIRY TALES are food for original musicals. TV has had "Jack and the Beanstalk" recently, the Rodgers-Hammerstein "Cinderella" is due this month and now CBS is preparing "Aladdin".

ALL-MAGIC show will be featured on Producers Showcase on May 27 with seven magicians from various parts of the world making appearances.

TELEPHONE TIME is moving to ABC in April. Which means that a lot of viewers in this area won't be seeing it.

BETTY HUTTON is doing a film series for NBC called "Hey Mom". One of her step-kids will be Shelley Fabares who refuses to trade on auntie Nanette Fabray's name.

DIAL SPINNERS

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT is the March 10 presentation on ABC's "Conflict". Produced by Warner Bros., it will unfold the story of a genial, happy-go-lucky wanderer trapped by a web of circumstantial evidence. Will Hutchins stars as the tramp whose initials condemn him in a homicide case.

ODYSSEY, a series of weekly hour-long CBS programs, will premiere on WBEN-TV March 10 at 4 p. m. An epic story of man's greatest adventure in his dramatic journey from prehistoric caves to the frontiers of space. The Odyssey series began on CBS in January. ERIN O'BRIEN, a Steve Allen discovery and recent Look cover-girl, will sing tunes to herald St. Patrick's Day on next Saturday night's George Gobel Show. Also making a guest appearance will be actor Jack Carson as little Georgie's Army buddy.

ICE CATHEDRAL, on ABC's Crossroads (March 8) will portray the true drama of a chaplain's battle with superstition in the 1946-47 Byrd expedition to Antarctica.

JACK BENNY and Mary Livingston will again take up their roles as tourists extraordinary when they tour Venice on March 10.

WILT (the Stilt) CHAMBERLAIN, basketball star of University of Kansas, headlines the Ed Sullivan show this coming Sunday p. m. There will also be the Associated Press' All-American college cagers, plus the usual measure of entertainers and performers.

EILEEN, first TV version of Victor Herbert's romantic musical story of a fighting Irish soldier and a haughty beauty during the 1798 rebellion, will star Gordon MacRae and Patricia Morison in the March 14 Lux Video Theater production.

LAST TRAIN TO KILDEVIL, drama of a man and his wife who face a grave marital and business crisis during the final run of a train between Manhattan and a suburb, on Mennen Hour, Monday, March 11, 1957.

A WARREN PROGRAM, The

Episcopal Hour, authored by the Rev. Beecher M. Rutledge of Trinity Memorial Church, will be used on a nation-wide radio network. The Episcopalian national publicity office will use the original scripts to prepare the coast-to-coast program.

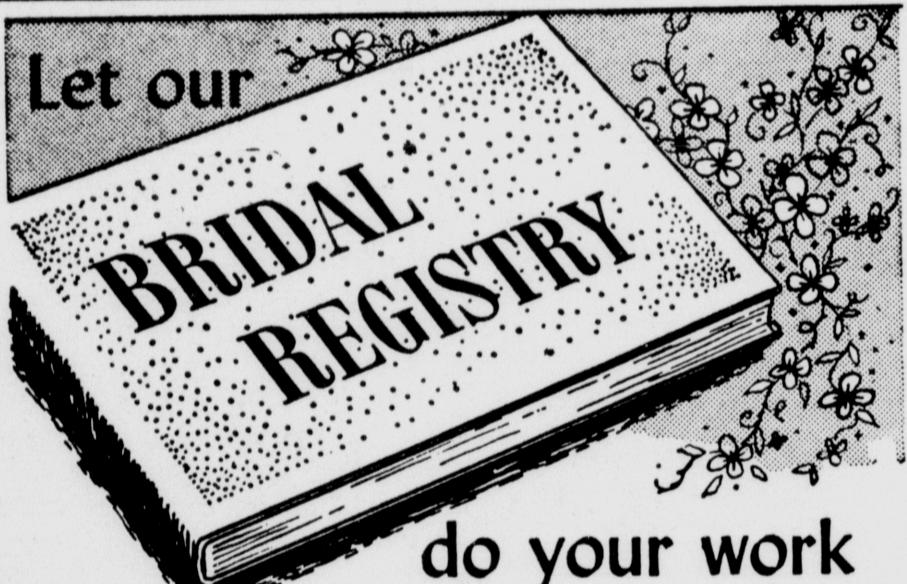

SPORTS PICTURE

BOXING from Madison Square Garden via the NBC-TV network Friday night will feature a 10-round welterweight bout between Sugar Hart, of Philadelphia, and Walt Byars, of Boston. The 21-year old youngsters are making their first appearances in the Garden and on national television. Hart is favored over Byars although the latter upset Kid Gavilan, former champion, last December 4.

NBA BASKETBALL finds the Fort Wayne Pistons and St. Louis Hawks scheduled for the Saturday afternoon "game of the week". This is the final telecast of the regular NBA season. However, three Saturday play-off games remain on NBC's schedule, March 16, 23, and 30.

PRO HOCKEY, a CBS Saturday afternoon feature, will pit the still-leading Detroit Red Wings against third-place Boston Bruins. The Montreal Canadiens, in second place, narrowed the Red Wings lead by four points last week with a 3-0 victory over Detroit. The Wings have 11 games to play and the Canadiens 10.

BOWLING, channel 4 on Sunday afternoon, will see Bill Bunetta and Joe Wilman rolling 'em. Bunetta, as predicted, knocked off Buzz Fazio last Sunday p. m. Wilman may be around for some time.

RETAILERS AND GUESTS. The newly chosen retailers committee of the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce, under chairman James Blomquist, met at a dinner-meeting Monday evening with special guests.

In attendance were (l. to r.) standing -- Jaycee Bill Clinger, Chester West, Karl Grettenberger, Frank Foster of WNAE, storehours chairman Ray Stein, Vern Zellefrow, parking chairman Jake Levinson, Woodrow Jensen, merchants' picnic chairman Nick Wendelboe, Jr., John Logan, Dick Ross, Jaycee Dick Cook, and A. F. Minelli.

Seated -- J. Rex Biekarcik, Melvin Ahlgren, executive secretary Charles Tranter, chairman Blomquist, vice chairman and rules and regulations chairman George Redding, Chamber president Paul Harrington, and assessments chairman William Cannon.

Not present were sales and promotion chairman Frank A. Wood, Christmas decorations chairman Ken Washington, F. E. Kieshauer, Carl G. Lundahl and Jerry Waxman.

In a business session it was reported that a March Spring Opening promotion has been scheduled for later this month with nearly 40 merchants participating to date.

A special blood recruitment project has started and it was learned that the bloodmobile will make a special trip to Warren if enough retailers and retail employees would sign up.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE. The special projects committee recently appointed by the Warren General Hospital board of directors met earlier this week and agreed to recommend to the board a proposal to remodel the former maternity building of the hospital into a 25-room chronic illness rehabilitation center.

The recommendation will be presented the board at a meeting next Tuesday.

The cost of such a project is estimated at $100,000, but just where funds to cover the expense could be acquired from has not been definitely learned at this time.

AMONG ADVANCEMENTS made at the Post 1 dinner at Trinity Memorial Church Monday evening were: to Life Scout, John Urbaitis, Maurice Roland and George Ball; to Star Scout, Jim Gaghan.

They are pictured with Frank Seely, scoutmaster; the Rev. Beecher Rutledge, pastor of the sponsoring church; and Byron Knapp, who made the presentations.

GIRL SCOUT WEEK. Burgess William E. Rice signed a proclamation Tuesday encouraging the observance of Girl Scout Week in Warren March 10-16.

Watching the signing is Mrs. Wade Ransom, of Youngsville, president of the Warren-Forest Counties Council of Girl Scouts.

Late Sport

PLAYOFF SPLIT

The Unknowns evened up the play-off series for the 1956-57 YMCA-City league championship last night by pinning back the Knights of Columbus 63 to 58.

Pushing to a 31-20 lead in the first half, the victors saw their edge cut to two points in the third before putting on a 22-point finish. George Rasmussen paced the Unknowns with 17 points, while John Powley tipped in 21 for K. of C.

Last Thursday the Knights walked off with a close 67-64 decision behind the 22-point scoring of Powley. Rasmussen was also top man for the losers with 20.

The rubber game of the series is scheduled for 8:15 tonight on the "Y" court.

JAYVEES WIN AGAIN

The Warren Jayvees appeared in the preliminary tilt for the Y-City loop playoff again Wednesday night and this time whipped the Youngsville varsity 64 to 57. Jack Karkosky burned the cords with 20 counters for the Dragons.

MAJOR OPERA ATTRACTION

Again we remind you that if you like the best of opera you need not travel all the way to New York to see it. The Metropolitan Opera, under the direction of Rudolph Bing, will appear in the Cleveland Public Auditorium, April 22 through April 28, with matinees on April 27 and April 28. The Northern Ohio Opera Association, Inc., in cooperation with the City of Cleveland, is presenting this major attraction for the thirty-second season.

The leading opera performers of the nation and the world are heard during this week, and needless to say you must act quickly if you want a seat. In fact the event is so popular that the easiest way to get a seat is to wire a money order for all of the operas. You might end up with all of them, and that would be fine. If not, you might receive tickets for one or two. And if you receive tickets you don't want, no doubt someone will be happy to relieve you of them.

To be heard this year are Lucia Di Lammermoor on Monday evening, La Traviata on Tuesday evening, Il Trovatore on Wednesday evening, Carmen on Thursday evening, La Perichole on Friday evening, Tosca for the Saturday matinee, The Marriage of Figaro on Saturday evening, and Madame Butterfly, Sunday afternoon.

The evening performances start at eight, Saturday's matinee will be heard at 1:30, and Sunday's at 2:00. If you order tickets for individual performances, also indicate your second and third choices. The prices range from $1.20 to $10 for a single, and $9.60 to $80 for the eight.

Nearly all the big names in opera will be heard. Best known to the average listener who may never have seen an actual opera in the flesh are Lily Pons who will sing Lucia in Lucia Di Lammermoor, Rise Stevens who will sing Carmen and Richard Tucker who will be Don Jose in Carmen, Cyril Ritchard as Don Andres in La Perichole in which Patrice Munsel will sing the lead, and Renata Tebaldi as Tosca and Violetta.

Cesare Siepi will sing Figaro, Jan Peerce will play Edgardo, and there will be Licia Alvanese, Gloria Lind, Paul Franke, Gianni Poggi, Robert Merrill, George London, Heidi Krall, and on down the line, imposing name on name.

If you would like the cast for any of the operas we may have it, or can obtain it for you in a very few hours. Make your checks payable to the Northern Ohio Opera Association, Inc., and mail to Main Lobby, Union Commerce Bank, East 9th and Euclid Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio. The telephone number is Main 1-8300.

Looking back at the operatic names we have listed we note many we should have mentioned, such as Theodor Uppman, Daniele Barioni, Lucine Amara, Laurel Hurley, Zinka Milanov, Rosalind Elias, Mildren Miller, Nell Rankin, Jussi Bjoerling, Ettore Bastianini, Frank Guarnera, Clifford Harvut, Ralph Herbert, and Leonard Warren.

Conducting the performances is a list of maestri which is enough to convince an opera goer that this is the tops. These are Kurt Adler, Pietro Cimara, Fausto Cleva Jean Morel, Martin Rich, and Max Rudolf.

Rudolph Bing puts in a strong plug for La Perichole, which he says has been termed the Met's "My Fair Lady". He says a sparkling new English text has provided a delight-

HOSTELING

If you would like to see a major share of the world at a very low cost, meet many people, and live close to the ground, plan a series of hosteling trips to Europe, the Far East, North and Central America. The American Youth Hostels, Inc., a non-profit group, handles the details. You have the fun.

You have a choice of twenty-two trips, many of them on bicycle, some on foot, others by station wagon, and many a bit of each. There are trips to New England, Quebec, Nova Scotia, the Canadian Rockies, western national parks, Mexico, a transcontinental rolling hostel, northern Europe, western Europe, central Europe, southwest Europe, the British Isles, England and Scandinavia, France, Switzerland and the Rhine Valley, a circle of the continent which takes in Austria, Switzerland, Italy, the ful bit of musical pastry, which has gained additional flavor in the hands of the Met's new French conductor, Jean Morel.

It certainly adds up to a week of top opera, sufficient for those who love this kind of music, and attractive to those who would like to learn about it. We can't imagine a better way to become acquainted.

The costs are based on the preceding year and can change as they go, but they range from $135 for the New England jaunt to $2255 for the trip around the world if you go cabin class, $2130 if you travel tourist class.

Some of the European trips are called 4-week specials and cost about $700. These are covered much by bicycle and by foot. There also are the more extensive trips through Europe by Volkswagen. They also cost between $700 and $800.

In the bicycling groups, about thirty miles are covered each day. Trains are used for long distances.

There is some camping out where hostels are not available.

In the European trips the plan is for the group to stay together for about thirty days. Then the members can spend two to four weeks of independent travel. Passage both ways is included in the price, and all expenses while with the group for the first thirty days.

It sounds like much fun, and certainly is an economical way to see other countries close up, and to meet their people. Trained leaders are with every group which consists of probably seven people and no more than ten.

If interested visit the Observer office and look over the brochure.

Betty Hill rattled out 552 to take the women's tournament lead in the singles. Sally Lannen and Betty Nichols had 1088 for top spot in the doubles. Another shift of doubles and singles will roll Sunday and three shifts on March 17.

Betty Cedrone and Phillipa Morris have 1065 and Stella Cerra and Jaye Pappalardo have 1064 for second and third in the doubles. In the singles they are well bunched following Betty. They read: Marie Heald, 540; Phyl Honhart, 539; Helen Peterson, 537; Jaye Pappalardo (again?), 535, and Stella Cerra (tskl), 534.

This Sunday the team event will be rolled at one and three. The one o'clock shift consists of Paul-Mar, Certified, Dan's Chevrolet, Sylvania, Simonsen's, Style Shop, Toy Center, and Nino's.

Going at three are Printz, Newell Press, Marguerites, Struthers, Fernows, Youngsville Ladies, and a pair of nameless combinations.

The doubles and singles shift at five schedules: Charlotte Dalrymple and Fran McAllister, Lois Meabon and Ruth Mason, Ann Hill and Phyllis Hill, Helen Ward and Phyllis Pugh, Beatrice Johnson and Pat Abraham, JoAnne Lundmark and Shirley Williams, Mary Biehls and Corrine Ryan.

LEAGUE LEADERS

Fred Baldensperger had 255 and 641 in the City league to pace the field. Barney Senger had 611 in the City. Pete Juliano hit 601 in the Industrial.

Other leaders: Jack Kifer, 597 in the Merchants; Wes Redfield and Chuck Halle, 595 in the Junior Industrial; Ernie Wilson, 232 and 588 in the Commercial; Art Check, 573 in the Exservicemen; Clair Proud, 547 in the Sylvania; John Salomon, 547 in the American K of C; Sam and Frank Gerardi were brotherly at 533 in the National K of C.

Vern Genberg, 513 in the National Forge; Ned Bartholomew, 510 in the Shop; Ken Hoffman, 485 in the Penn Junior; Frank Ristau, 458 in the Arcade Junior.

MIXED LEAGUES

DeRoy Lowe and Glenn Grosch had 511 and Phyllis Rieder 449 in the Friday league, Ken Peterson, 527, and Betty Gayle Scalise, 398, in the Tuesday loop; Bill Lucia, 489, and Marian Day, 379, in the Metzger Wright league.

LADY SPINNERS

Rose P. (for Como) Juliano not only fell out of bed this week. The thing must have collapsed. She hit 556 in the City league and 519 in the Major to soak up all the spotlight.

Red Walsh had 527, Bernice Thomas, 521, and Joan Shedd, 519, in the City. Neva Ladner had 211 and 510 and Bertha Knupp hit 504 in the Major.

Other leaders were Aurelia Crecraft, 466 in the Automotive, Bee McMillan, 461 in Peg's, Gerry Ernst, 442 in the Minor, and Carol Sandberg, 414 in Class C.

EXHIBITION

Steve Nagy and Buzz Fazio may be seen in Warren April 27. They may provide a major share of the program for the Elks banquet. If one of them can not make it, Joe Wilman, or some equally well known kegler, will be substituted. They will roll at the Penn Bowling Center.

Southern Champs

Three Warren high wrestlers succeeded in the southern tier finals at Meadville last week end and will now journey to Erie Saturday in an effort to earn District 10 trophies against Section 1 victors.

Headlining the Dragon slate is Don Brian, a 127-pound senior who ended the regular season unbeaten with a record of eight wins and a draw.

Next is team captain Harry Brooker, also a senior who goes 145. He was second best on the Warren roster this year with a 9-1 account in dual meets.

A 103-pound sophomore, Gail Page, who built a 7-3 record this year, is the other local representative seeking honors.

DRAGONETTE staff members visited the Warren Observer press room this week to watch their Warren high school newspaper publication roll off the press offset style.

The printing end of the operation is the only phase not handled by the students. The school staff collects and writes its news, lays out the paper, and handles the circulation. Pictured observing the operation are (l. to r.), Sally Slate, Marilyn Haer, Jack Larson, pressman, Scott Mohr, Lyell Carr, school news-writing advisor, and Don Sagramoso.

In Brief

PRIMARY CHATTER. The May 21 primary election race is well underway in Warren borough.

By wards for borough council: Incumbent John Newmaker is running again and will be opposed by Ralph E. Anderson on the GOP ticket. J. G. Smith, Rep. incumbent, is still a likely for the third, Tom Conway having announced on the Democratic card. Warren E. Miller, incumbent, is going to run in the second ward. Down in the fourth, incumbent John Carbon is unopposed on the GOP side, with Art White a candidate for the opposition.

The big fifth is causing plenty of talk, with a dark horse still likely. To date its incumbent Ted Berdine against Karl Timm on the Republican slate, while Jack Larson has tossed his Dem. hat in. Paul Yagge will run again in the sixth on the GOP, with William Schulmann a likely candidate for the other party.

Richard Meacham is the newcomer out for the GOP nod in the sixth. In the eighth it's still likely to be Maurice R. Emery, GOP, with Frank Fago announcing for the Democrats.

Previously undecided Nick Mernick will run again in the ninth, with Richard Tucker opposing him on the GOP ticket.

DISCUSS FLOOD CONTROL. A discussion regarding the projects of permanent flood control on upper Glade Run and Indian Run was held in Harrisburg Tuesday when a delegation from Warren met with Dr. M. K. Goodard, secretary of the Department of Forests and Waters, and C. H. McConnell, chief engineer of the division of flood control in the department.

The possibilities of including the mentioned projects in the bi-annual budget now being assembled by the state was also explored.

It seemed to be the feeling that serious consideration would be given the projects, but Mr. McConnell stated he was unable to give a definite commitment on the date which additional studies will be started on the local flood problems. It is expected that topographic surveys will commence in late April. An engineering review of the entire problem will follow.

The local delegation consisted of Assemblyman Allen Gibson, councilman James H. Frantz, borough engineer R. E. DeBell, and borough manager George Geracimos.

ROAD BLOCKS. State police of the Warren barracks were alerted to set up road blocks in the area Monday, following the morning armed hold-up of McDowell National Bank at Hickory. The bandit is believed to have made off with an estimated $50,000.

TOO FAST. Stanley F. Zakrewski, 432 Pennsylvania ave., W., was arrested for driving too fast for conditions after striking a parked auto owned by Martha Fleming, 835 Fourth ave., on Warren's West Side Saturday night.

About $400 damage was caused when Zakrewski was unable to stop on the icy highway, skidded over the curb and sidewalk, and struck the other vehicle.

APPROXIMATELY $900 damage was caused at 7:45 p. m. Friday night at the intersection of Pennsylvania ave., E., and Crescent st. According to police Robert G. Smith, 3 Euclid ave., hit the rear of a car driven by Carl G. Anderson, 208 Madison ave., which in turn was driven into another vehicle operated by Wellington L. Nelson, 1514 Pennsylvania ave., E.

The latter two had stopped their cars when struck.

A CHARGE of driving while intoxicated was placed against James Thompson, R. D., Warren, by borough police last Friday, following a minor accident on Jackson st. at 5:45 p. m.

Thompson was arraigned before a justice of the peace late yesterday, but the outcome was not available at this time.

The mishap occurred when Thompson, proceeding east, struck the left rear of an oncoming car driven by Joyce M. O'Connor, of 113 Jackson st., Warren.

TURN DOWN TOUR. A report was confirmed by Warren Boy Choir officials Monday indicating it was necessary for the local group to turn down a five week extended tour under the management of National Artists corp. of New York. The choir was unable to underwrite a possible loss on the trip.

The Warren singers were asked to replace a European attraction that was unable to make a five-state southern tour.

SALARY ADJUSTMENTS and cost of living increases for Warren General Hospital employees were approved by the hospital board of directors last Thursday. The changes were made effective March 1.

Personnel committee chairman John Kirk told the board the adjustments would cost the hospital approximately $40,000 in the next year, but added that it would not be necessary to raise room rates at this time to carry the additional expense.

STUDENT NEWS. Francis J. Mahood, a freshman at Carnegie Tech, has been named on the dean's list for the first semester. Well-known for his artistic ability in Warren high school in recent years, he is a commercial art student at the school.

PICTURES for students' permanent school records will be taken in Warren next week. The schedule is Tuesday, high school; Thursday, junior high school; with the remaining days in the elementary buildings.

These pictures may also be purchased by the students.

LOST IN FIRE. An early evening blaze Saturday destroyed a small Mead township home and left without possessions Mr. and Mrs. Emery Orcutt and two small daughters, Sandra and Cheryl.

Located on the Warren-Kinzua road, the house was discovered engulfed in flames shortly after 8 o'clock. It was completely gutted despite the quick response of Clarendon and Pleasant Volunteer fire departments. Faulty electrical wiring was believed to have been the cause.

With the fire the family lost all their belongings, but the kindnesses of neighbors and friends have made the family at least comfortable for a while.

PERSONALITIES. Alice Davis, first president and a charter member of the Warren Zonta club, was honored at the organization's birthday dinner last Thursday. Also present for the occasion was Grace Mitchell Aberg, the only other remaining charter member.

Melbourne Karlson, of Deluxe Metal Furniture and member of the national council of IMC's, has been chosen to represent the local chapter at the 23rd annual conference of Industrial Management clubs affiliated with the YMCA at Hartford, Conn., in May.

Two local women were recent recipients of awards in the Erie Woman's Club art exhibition. Helen Logan received second prize for her oil painting "Calla Lilies", and Ethel Kahle's transparent water color "Prologue To Winter" was given a third prize. Both were in the pastime group.

OPEN HOUSE. A highly successful and well organized open house program was planned by Sylvania Electric Products officials Wednesday for the public opening of the firm's new Plastics Plant in Warren.

The plant, a part of the parts division of the company, is a multi-million dollar installation and utilizes the latest in thermosetting and thermoplastic molding and finishing equipment.

At a breakfast for special guests Wednesday morning an official stated the employment in the Warren Sylvania plants is now just under 1000, but should reach between twelve and thirteen hundred in the next four years or so. The new building employs approximately 250 people, including supervisory and office personnel.

TWO ACCIDENTS were investigated by state police Saturday, the first occurring at 9 a. m. a half-mile west of Warren on Route 6. It was reported that Clarice Bauer, of St. Marys, lost control of her auto, rolled it over and caused $500 damage. No one was seriously injured.

At 5:50 p. m. two miles east of Warren on Route 6 autos operated by Ernest Stewart, Jr., 22 Hemlock st., Warren, and Wilbur Nordin, North Warren, collided causing about $300 damage. Both were headed in the opposite direction when Stewart started to make a left turn across the highway.

JAYCEE PROJECT. The Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce has announced plans for its annual Junior Citizenship Award project under the chairmanship of Bruce Ryan.

Nominations for a young boy or girl from Warren County who can be singled out for outstanding achievements and services to home, school, organizations and community should be sent to the committee at Box 147, Warren, no later

AMONG INTERESTED guests who made a tour of the new Plastics Plant of Sylvania Wednesday were Walt Dremann, Chamber president Paul Harrington and Melvin Keller.

CONFERENCE PLAY

The Upper Allegheny Valley league championship was settled on Beaty court Tuesday night, when the Youngsville Eagles pounced on a 49-46 victory to settle the tie with Northern Area. It was the third straight set-back of the season the Eagles had handed the Knights and broke their 8-2 tie.

Northern Area, however, still claims the Class C title and will now face Fairview for the District 10 title at Corry on March 13. Fairview owns the Erie County title. Over in District 9 the Allegheny Mountain loop closed Friday night with Ridgway defeating Emporium 73-69 in overtime. St. Marys had already wrapped up the "B" championship with a 7-1 record, but Sheffield's 5-3 account lets them into the "C" playoffs.

The Wolverines will encounter Sykesville at St. Marys on March 8, while at the same time Chicora goes against Emlenton at Clarion-Limestone. Victors of these two games then go to it at Clarion-Limestone on March 14 for the District 9 crown.

Title holders of districts 9 and 10 will then meet on March 18. Clearfield clinched the Class A championship in District 9 Tuesday night by licking woeful Curwensville 101 to 32 on the losers own court. The makeup game closed the league for the season, and gave the Bisons a 9-3 record.

Last Friday the Clearfield five suffered a 55-52 set-back at the hands of defending Kane, Bradford tied the knot on second place by downing DuBois 78-59, and Punxsutawney clipped Brookville 70-53.

 BABY DRAGONS ROAR

Warren high's potential for the 1957-58 campaign looked good Monday night as they walloped a Tidioute high varsity 92 to 27. The game was staged as an after-season contest on the YMCA court for a prelim attraction to the Y-City league playoff tilt.

The guiding star of the local jayvee squad was Nicky Creola and his 21 pointmaking. Jack Karkosky had 14 for Warren, while Don McKelvy and Dick Wilson each tallied 12. George McKean was best for Tidioute with 11.

 EARN DISTRICT BERTHS

A trio of Warren high matmen made it through the southern section finals at Meadville last week end and will now appear on the slate for District 10 titles at Erie on Saturday. The northern tier winners will provide the opposition. Successful in the section were

UP AND AWAY. Jack Karkosky, the Warren JV - Tidioute post ace Dragon cageman who will re-season game at the "Y" this week, turned to the varsity next year, tossed He tallied a total of 14 points in this shot up in the third quarter of the contest.

Gail Page, a 105-pounder who got the referee's nod in a tie finish; Don Brian, 129-pound veteran who earned a 1-0 decision; and 145-pounder, Harry Brooker, who figured best in a 6-2 verdict.

Larry Campbell, a 95-pound frosh, and Warren's only other contender, lost in a close 7-6 finish.

 CHURCH LOOP TIED

St. Paul's Lutheran and First Methodist pulled into a two-way tie in the Warren Church league with victories over the past week.

The Methodists, paced by Dave Lord with 30 and 26 points, took respective 65-38 and 74-56 wins from First Presbyterian and First Baptist. The Swedes, figuring in only one contest, nipped the Baptists 71-62 with Dick Terry a leader with 31 counters.

In the remaining game Grace Methodist overpowered the Presbyterians by a 76-50 margin. Top pointmaker for the winners was Dick Kyler with 20.

The standings: First Methodist and St. Paul's, 3-0; Baptist and Grace, 1-2; and Presbyterian, 0-4.

 WHS LETTERMEN

Joseph Massa, director of athletics in Warren high school, Wednesday announced the official list of basketball and wrestling lettermen for the 1956-57 season.

Cagemen receiving the coveted "W" will be seniors Bill Dahl, Dick Danielson, Steve Lindquist, Jim Mohnkern, Ed Rickerson, Lou VanBlois, Dick Kremer, John Berdine, and juniors Ken Hoffman and Jack Karkosky. Also managers Berry Kornreich and Jim Confer. It is the third varsity letter for Rickerson, the only returnee on this year's squad.

Four grapplers and one manager are the only seniors on this year's wrestling squad -- Iver Stenberg, Harry Brooker, Bruce Trevenen, Don Brian, and manager Dick Aldrich. Others who will be returning are Bill Cummings, Ron Bowen, Jay Benze, Dennis Flatt, Steve Pearson, Gail Page and Larry Campbell.

 TO MANAGE FALCONS

The Pittsburgh Pirates baseball club this week announced the selection of Jack Paepke, 39 year old catcher who has held managerial assignments with three other teams, as the new manager of the Jamestown Falcons, The New York farm club is in the Class D New York-Pennsylvania circuit.

 JR. HIGH CHAMPS

Northern Area's Jr. high quintet nudged out a 30-28 victory over Youngsville Tuesday night to claim the Upper Allegheny Valley Jr. high league championship.

Each had beaten the other one game during the season.

UNUSUAL BALLET. Warren's Bill Mervine is about to snag this rebound from Tidioute's Sveda and McKean in the local jayvee's 92-27 triumph over the visiting team at the "Y" Monday night.

IT'S GOOD. The Knights' Ricky Scalise put up this one-handed jump shot for a pair of his 15 points scored in the initial YMCA-City league championship playoff at the "Y" court Monday night.

The K. of C. defeated the Unknowns 67-64 in the contest.

KINZUA DAM AND FISH

For some reason, which may be too apparent, there is a constant effort to discredit the proposed Kinzua dam as being of any value to fishermen and others who can use water for their outdoor pleasure. In view of the experience of those who live in areas where similar dams have been built, such statements seem a bit ridiculous.

Residents of Tidioute, for example, need only to talk with their neighbors in Tionesta or take a short drive to the Tionesta dam. We have seen it swarming with visitors who were enjoying a variety of fun.

But the pay-off comes from the power companies, which are blamed by many for being those who constantly buck dams that are proposed by the government. Of course they have earned this reputation by actually opposing such dams in many cases, not because the dams were wrong, but because they wanted to do it themselves.

Now we are receiving publicity releases which are telling how valuable these private company dams are to the fishermen. Fishing bridges are built by the companies near the dams and thousands of anglers utilize them. The Safe Harbor dam on the Susquehanna averages 23,900 visits each year. The Conowingo dam was visited by 32,300 fishermen between June 1 and mid-September.

These fishermen were not visiting the dams for the scenery alone. At Conowingo they made a count of the fish caught. The number was 156,000! Most of these were catfish, which make mighty tasty eating. Also caught were crappie, white perch, white shad, wall-eyes, sunfish, smallmouth bass, largemouths, yellow perch, bluegills, rock bass, herring, hickory shad, eels, striped bass, and white suckers. Sounds interesting.

But that isn't all. In addition to these fishermen who had their fun right at the dam, there were 14,900 who fished the lake formed by the dam. Who said the resulting Kinzua lake would be of no value?

PROPOSED LAWS

A few more of the proposed laws which would affect the outdoorsmen include one which would allow archers to kill either sex if there is to be an open season on deer. We already have mentioned the one which would make it necessary to register any pistol, rifle, or shotgun at a cost of fifty cents before it could be carried in a car.

Another law would make the coon a fur-bearing animal. Under this classification he also could be sold alive for any purpose. The animal has become so numerous that they apparently are giving the little ring-tail the works.

OPEN DEER SEASON

Housebill 472 would provide for an open season for deer hunting with the following game law amendments: Section 501 would be changed to fix an open season on deer, December 2 to 6, 1957, and thereafter as fixed by resolution of the Game Commission. All special licenses for antlerless deer would be eliminated.

There would be an open season for

BUCKS DIE YOUNG

The practice of shooting only buck deer in Pennsylvania has resulted in a short life expectancy on the part of the antlered ones. Very few live to be five years old. In captivity they live to fifteen or twenty.

Over half the bucks killed each season are a little over one year old. And about a third of them are two and a half years old. Only six per cent of those brought in are over four years of age.

This explains why so few trophy bucks now are being shot. They do not become sufficiently mature until they are four or five years old to provide really fine antlers.

REDUCE KILL

Almost all kinds of game were shot in smaller quantities last fall than in 1955 despite a very pleasant fall, as reported here a week or two ago. However, the squirrel hunters the archers, and in Section 705 the restrictions as to visible antlers, weight, and age of legal deer would be removed.

In the same bill is a bag limit change which would allow the killing of one male and one female pheasant in a single day.

Worth 15 cents to the county treasurers is the proposal to have archery licenses issued by these officials who would become designated agents of the Department of Revenue. It would cost the applicant an additional 15 cents.

MORE BIG BUSINESS

The trend toward bigger business as the mode of the day and the nation was continued last year when 905 mergers were recorded by the Federal Trade Commission. This exceeds the 846 in 1955, and all other recent years. Maybe all years.

Leading the field were the non-electrical machinery plants with 100 mergers, though this was less than their 112 of 1955. Electrical machinery mergers numbered 70, a jump up from 53.

Food and kindred products had 59 mergers. Fabricated metals had 55, as did chemicals. Mining had 43.

On a percentage basis the biggest increase in mergers took place in the lumber and furniture field where 24 were completed. Only six mergers were consummated in 1955. Printing and publishing mergers doubled in number, moving from eight up to sixteen.

NOT ORGANIC

The FTC has ordered the makers and distributors of Actumus to stop representing it as a humus, that it activates bacteria and creates nitrates, that it creates fertility in the soil, and that it is entirely natural and 100 per cent organic.

Scientists have testified that Actumus has no effect as a fertilizing agent and contains less than one-half of one per cent of nitrogen and potash and only 5/100ths of one per cent of phosphorous.

NOT PORCELAIN

The Arrow Metal Products Corp. and Awnair Corp. of America must stop using the trade name Porcenamel for awnings or awning parts that are not finished with porcelain. Porcenamel is a baked on enamel, applied at 500 degrees, while real porcelain is a glass material fused and inseparably bonded to metal at temperatures of 1700 degrees. The names are so similar that the FTC believes the customer may be misled.

1876TH LARGEST

A wire from the American Banker says the Warren Bank and Trust Co. has been ranked as the 1876th largest out of 14,000 banks in the nation. Last year it was 2071st. Its $11,889,033 in deposits on December 31 moved it up 195 places.

REMINDING US

The Warren Bank and Trust Co. release reminds us that banking today rates as one of the top four careers in prestige value. It outranks law, architecture, and dentistry. Who decided this we don't know, but so says the University of Chicago.

HOW IT STARTED

In 1864 a man named Caleb Chase decided the housewife was spending too much time making coffee. She had to buy green beans, roast them and grind the results. He decided to blend and roast coffee, and sell it through the grocers. He later teamed up with a man named James Sanborn. And now you know.

AND CAMERAS

There is a bit of money in photography, and every year sees it grow. About three years ago, 33 million families in this country owned cameras. Today, they are owned by 36 million families. This actually is a slow-up, because last year there were 35 million, a jump of two million over the previous year.

Americans are spending 400 million dollars a year on supplies and equipment for these cameras. Another good reason for making the most of our recreational facilities in this area. Vacationers spend a major

Television and Radio

By John Crosby
THE SHUT-IN

For years I have been hearing about what television does for the shut-ins, how they could hardly exist without it. Well, for the last week or so I have been a shut-in and I must say television is certainly indispensable. Here it is 7:45 a. m. in the hospital and I am waiting for breakfast and on Channel 4 there is a ballet to keep me distracted.

What would I do for ballet before breakfast if it weren't for television? What indeed? When you stop to think that for years and years people had to get along WITHOUT ballet before breakfast, you wonder how on earth they managed. Now the ballet is over and I'm being told that it is 52 degrees in Okay, Ark.; 22 in Harrisburg and 4 below in Superior, Wis. I would have had to get along without any of this information if David Sarnoff hadn't been invented. Now they have close order drill in Philadelphia on Channel 4. And more and more I feel like the little girl who reviewed a book with the words: "This book tells me more about penguins than I want to know."

R.C.A. has been kind enough to equip me with one of these gadgets that turn the set on, adjust the sound and -- well does everything -- all from your bed. It is a marvelous gadget all right and one of its greatest wonders -- and one not dwelt upon nearly enough in the advertisements -- is that it not only turns the damn thing on, but it also turns the damn thing off. This is a blessing not to be dismissed when you are, as I am, a captive audience. There are patients in this hospital who have to summon a nurse to turn the set on and -- far more importantly -- summon her again to turn it off when something especially repulsive shows up. I am already too much in bondage to the nurses. I can't, for instance, brush my teeth without their assistance. They have to go get the tooth brush and the bowl. But I can choose between Ed Sullivan and Steve Allen without consulting the nurses, without having to explain myself. Thank God for that.

I have enough trouble explaining to myself why I am looking at a particular television show, without having to put it in words for the nurses. They're full of their own opinions and the first thing you know you have an argument on your hands -- and I'm supposed to be in here for a rest.

There is a phrase called "captive audience," which has been kicked around a good deal but is widely misunderstood. Theoretically, television has me at its mercy now that I'm flat on my back -- but so long as that little knob that turns the set off is there, it hasn't. However, a patient IS a captive audience to his nurse. No knob has yet been invented that can turn her off.

Just the other day, a nurse was crawling under the bed looking for my blood pressure -- I think they threw my blood pressure out with the bath water -- and she fell to telling me how hard it was on patients simply to listen. Visitors, she said, were a terrible strain on the patients because all that talk, talk, talk demanded actual physical exertion to listen to. She developed this theme brilliantly -- namely, that listening was hard physical work -- and it went on for about forty minutes. It ended with the advice not to have any visitors because they would be too much of a strain on me. And at that moment -- anything would have been.

And then there was the lab tech-

HAPPINESS is a telephone call

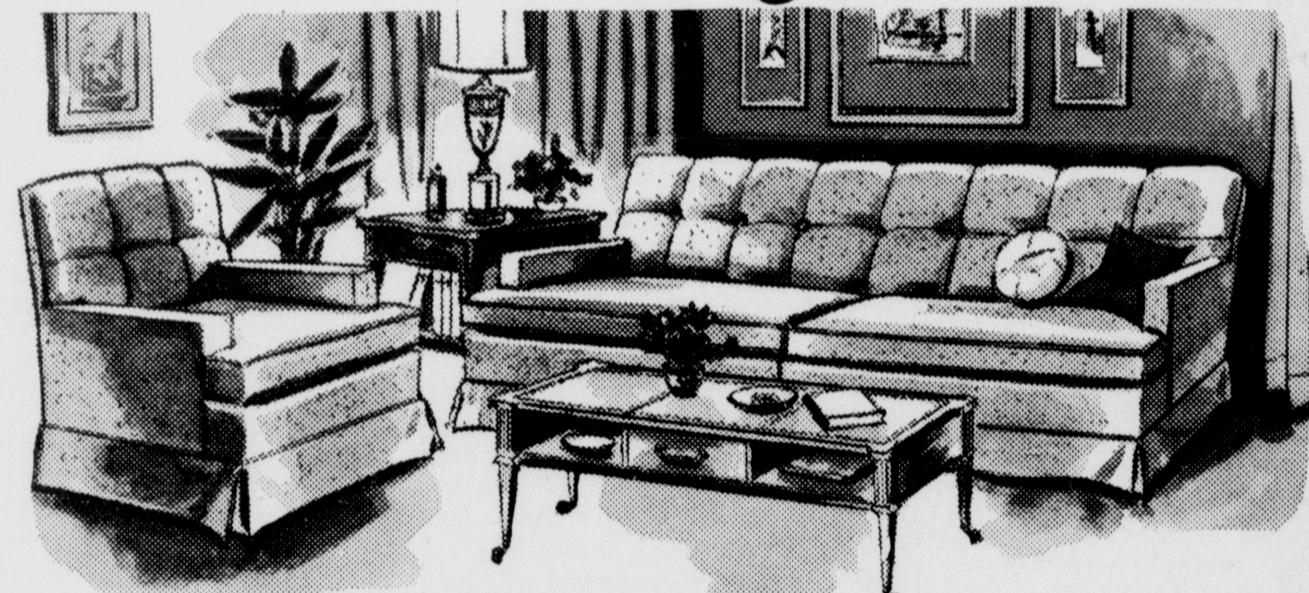

A voice you hadn't heard for weeks or months...
The offer of a job you wanted so much to win...
An invitation to a party you know will be great fun...
Good news from your family or faraway friends...
A business order you'd worked hard to get...

In everyone's life, so much happiness starts with the ring of the telephone. So often, the calls you receive are more important to you than those you make. And these calls never show up on your telephone bill. That's just one more reason why the telephone is one of your biggest bargains. Your telephone costs you so little for what it gives you.

Need For New Housing Disclosed By C. of C.

There is a definite desire and a need for additional new housing developments in Warren County according to the Housing Committee of the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce which has just completed a survey designed to ascertain the housing requirements of the future.

Furthermore, the committee agrees that there is a need for some speculative building of higher price homes on a small scale and that there should be a master plan of the county whereby certain areas would be reserved for well laid out and attractive residential areas.

The conclusions of the Housing Committee were drawn after a look at the results of the survey taken last fall. 5,000 survey forms were distributed throughout the county with 1,500 replies received indicating present housing and interest in future housing.

Of those returning the questionnaire 378 said that they were not satisfied with their present homes and were interested in building or buying a home within the next five years.

Of that number 44% were interested in building, 33% in buying and 14% were undecided. 68% said they would like to buy or build in Warren borough or the immediate Warren area.

Three bedroom ranch style design was the popular choice on the survey as 62% favored the ranch type and 59% indicated a need for three bedrooms. 20% wanted a two story house, however, and 15% desire four bedrooms. Half of the surveys showed a preference for frame construction with 24% interested in masonry.

Duane Wilder, Committee Chairman, reported to the committee that 16% of those answering would like to build this year, 37% in the next two years and 33% within five years. 29% said they are interested in building themselves while 30% would use a contractor. The rest were undecided.

The questionnaire also asked for price range interest and 46% are thinking of homes in the $10,000 to $15,000 bracket. However, 12% are interested in homes costing from $16,000 to $20,000 with 5% willing to spend more than $21,000 on their dwelling. 28% listed $10,000 or less as their price range.

One of the interesting aspects of the survey was the information concerning the age of homes now being lived in. 15% of those answering said they were living in a house 21 to 30 years old; 14% of the homes were 31 to 40 years old; 17% were homes from 41 to 50 year vintage; and 17% said their house was at least 50 years old.

About half of those turning in the survey were renting their present homes; the other half owned theirs. Main reasons for dissatisfaction with present homes were too old, too small, and unfavorable location.

Another unusual conclusion from the survey was the fact that 96 persons said they were satisfied with their present housing but, nevertheless, were still interested in making a change to something better or newer.

Members of the Chamber Housing Committee which met and discussed the survey were Mr. Wilder, Ludwig Peterson, Irvin Rader, Richard McCarthy, Lawrence Beyer, Elmer Lundahl, Richard Freibertshauser, Paul Harrington and Charles Tranter.

The group intends to meet again to continue study of the problem and attempt to find suitable answers for the housing needs of this area.

TO EXPAND BUSINESS, Nichols and Sons have announced that they are presently in the processing of acquiring the Park Laundry on Pennsylvania ave., W., for purposes of expanding their present service station facilities located adjacent to the building pictured here.

It is the intention of the owners to remove the front portion of the laundry to allow installation of gasoline pumps and to remodel the front of the present station.

Plans for the rear portion of the laundry have not as yet been formulated.

CHIEF FRANK GUITE

Machinist mate chief Frank Guite, a member of the Tonawanda Seneca Indian Reservation near Akron, N. Y., was recently assigned as a stationkeeper at the U. S. Naval Reserve training center in Jamestown, N. Y.

The chief, a veteran with the U. S. Navy since 1943, wears two battle stars for as many major European invasions during World War II, including Normandy. He recently served on the USS Osberg, a destroyer used by many local reservists on their annual training cruises.

When questioned on his feeling toward construction of a Kinzua dam, which would affect his people, Chief Guite stated he believed it was necessary to accept the modern changes of the world today and re-adjust yourself with them.
